

Proposed Programs 2016-2017

Subject to change. Updated September 2016

September 14, 2016

Annual Member Appreciation Event

October 20, 2016

Start with Why

Peter Docker, Igniter, Simon Sinek, Inc.

Peter shares a powerfully simple idea, discovered by Simon Sinek, called “The Golden Circle” and builds upon it with examples and stories that bring it to life. This simple idea explains how great leaders, companies, and organizations that inspire us are able to do so naturally and consistently. “The Golden Circle” unravels the mystery of how we must think, act, and communicate to inspire others.

December 1, 2016

Doing the Right Things Right: How the Effective Leader Spends Time

Laura Stack, President & CEO of The Productivity Pro

Inspired by Peter Drucker’s book The Effective Executive, Laura details how today’s leaders and managers can obtain profitable, productive results with their time by managing the intersection of two critical values: effectiveness and efficiency.

February 2 or 9, 2017

Transforming Performance Management

Lori Wisper, Willis Towers Watson Practice Leader

Companies continue to review their approach to performance management to ensure it is driving the right outcomes and delivering value to employees. Lori will share the latest research in this area, as well as experiences from clients who have made significant changes to performance management programs, including how to drive pay for performance in a rating-less performance management program.

March 9, 2017

The Futurist Leader

Yvette Salvotico, Principal and Managing Director at Kedge

Organizations that intentionally develop a futures culture are primed for market-leading innovation, successful opportunity development, and revenue-generating futures intelligence. Yvette will share how to develop a futures thinking competency model within your organization.

April 6, 2017

Honing Your Pitch: Persuade, Influence and Inspire Others

Michael Collins, Founder of Be Story Driven

Michael is an expert working with executives on techniques and structures to persuade, influence, and inspire others. Learn how to build trust, establish a connection, and foster collaboration in this highly interactive workshop. Michael highlights the power of storytelling and improve skills as a critical differentiator between good executive pitches and awesomely memorable and impactful pitches!

May 11, 2017

How Facebook Built a High Performing Organization

Stuart Crabb, founder of Facebook Learning & Development function

Stuart will share the Facebook story, specifically how the organization built a strong and positive culture that was also high performing. He will share the challenges faced given the volatile and fast changing nature of work, as well as the very significant demographic shifts in society which have put enormous pressure on ordinary people to perform at any cost.